

Hindsight 2020

#HindsightMobileFilm

SPECIAL PRESENTATION

Hindsight Mobile Film | Sunday, April 26

A very special and unique presentation tells the story of mobile filmmaking told by festival founder Susy Botello and special guest Neill Barham Founder/CEO of Filmic Pro.

Neill Barham, Founder/CEO

Filmic Pro  FiLMiCPro

Founder/CEO of Filmic, maker of Filmic Pro app, in 2011 for IOS and Android in 2015, based in Seattle, Washington. Neill Barham is the visionary behind the company. Filmic Pro is known as the app director Sean Baker of Tangerine used to shoot his film with an iPhone 5s. He used the Filmic Pro app to control automatic exposure in the native camera app. Later, other directors, such as Steven Soderbergh used Filmic Pro to shoot Unsane and High Flying Bird.

Filmic Pro has garnered a reputation over the years as the go-to app for serious filmmakers and videographers using mobile phone cameras. Neill Barham is a passionate pioneer in the mobile filmmaking industry.

Susy Botello, Founder/Director International Mobile Film Festival in San Diego, California

Owner/CEO of S. Botello Productions™ (2006) created International Mobile Film Festival (2009) as the centerpiece of an organic strategy to expand and support mobile filmmaking as a distinctive art form worldwide. She also created programs like the Mobile Film School (2012) and is host of the SBP Podcast Mobile Filmmaking (2017).

Susy is passionate about storytelling and film. She is an avid speaker and storyteller spreading the message of the mobile film community worldwide.